MIDIMALISME

For Spring-Summer 2026, the trend “midimalism” emerges, a harmonious fusion of minimalism and maximalism.

This trend creates a balance between calming simplicity and bold, colourful accents. While minimalism has influenced the design world for decades, the rediscovery of maximalism in 2025 brings a new dynamic, where clean, uncluttered spaces meet expressive, pop- and digital-inspired elements.

The result is a creative and personal environment that offers space for both tranquility and imagination and play. Midimalism provides a perfect balance between essential simplicity and rich, opulent details. In short: simplicity meets expression.
